

The sources discuss various Sadhana practices, which are spiritual or Tantric disciplines aimed at achieving specific powers (Siddhis), blessings, or states of being. These practices often involve the invocation or worship of Shakti, the divine power represented by various deities, particularly forms of the Maha Vidyas, the ten great wisdom goddesses. The sources delve into the nature, forms, purposes, methods, and potential outcomes of several such Sadhanas, while also highlighting the inherent risks and the crucial need for proper guidance.

Baglamukhi Sadhana

- Introduction and Form: Mata Baglamukhi is the eighth Mahavidya. She is also known as Mata Pitambara, and her favourite colour is yellow. She embodies the power of Stambhan (paralysis or immobilisation). All vibrations in the universe are attributed to her. She is among the most famous, prevalent, and effective of the 10 Mahavidya Sadhanas. She is described as beautiful with a gentle smile. She is three-eyed (Trinetra) and wears a half-moon (Ardha Chandra) on her forehead. Her body is yellow, and she wears yellow clothes and a garland of yellow flowers. Her other ornaments are also yellow, studded with precious stones. She wears garlands made of elements related to the yellow colour, such as Champa flowers and turmeric knots.
- Weapons and Purpose: She rides a jewelled chariot and destroys enemies. In her left hand, she pulls and holds the tongue of the enemy, while in her right hand, she holds a mace (Gada). The enemy is extremely frightened by this. Holding the tongue signifies that she is worshipped for granting and taking away the power of speech (Vak Shakti). In some places, she uses a dead body or corpse as her seat. Her purpose in holding weapons is the destruction of the wicked and the protection of her devotees.
- Other Names and Significance: She is also known as Pitambara Devi. Shri Baglamukhi is known as Brahmastra. There is no mantra equal to Baglamukhi for suppressing hostile elements (Ahak Paralok), societal dangers (Dahak Arishta), and pacifying enemies. Sadhaks have relied on her for a long time. According to the Kath Samhita of the Yajurveda, Baglamukhi illuminates the ten directions, possesses a beautiful form, and is the goddess of the universe.
- Origin Story: The origin of Mata Baglamukhi was narrated by Mata Kali herself from her face. It occurred when the universe was created and the previous seven Mahavidyas had appeared. A new Vidya (knowledge/power) was needed. The reason for her appearance was the demon Trigurasura. Trigurasura was clever and wise. He performed severe penance to Brahma, who was pleased and offered boons. The foolish Trigurasura misused this opportunity and asked for two boons: 1) the power to create a cosmic whirlwind (Brahmandi Bhra) and 2) that no Vidya in this world, not even the power of the Trimurti (Brahma, Vishnu, Shiva), could end him. After gaining these boons, he became arrogant and decided to enslave the Trimurti. He used his power to create a huge cosmic whirlwind. This whirlwind began swallowing meteorites and planets, causing storms everywhere, and it grew larger over time.

- Role in Trigurasura's Defeat: Lord Vishnu became concerned and meditated on Lord Shiva, who told him that only Shakti could stop this destruction. Vishnu and Brahma went to Hariidra Sarovar and prayed to Devi Maha Tripura Sundari. Pleased, Maha Tripura Sundari appeared and told them she knew the reason for their arrival. From her face, Devi Baglamukhi appeared. Devi Baglamukhi, following Tripura Sundari's command, prepared to fight Trigurasura. First, she used Mohan Vidya on him, enchanting him. Then she used Stambhan Vidya to immobilise the giant whirlwind, freeing the planets and stars. Mohan Vidya confused Trigurasura's intellect. Devi then used Uchchatan Vidya, causing Trigurasura to wander like a madman. Finally, she killed Trigurasura, freeing the world from crisis.
- Mohan, Stambhan, Uchchatan Vidya: These Vidyas can be used to control the intellect of even a very strong enemy, immobilise their mind, and destroy them. This Vidya attacks a person at a mental level. However, it is warned that misusing this Vidya to torment innocent beings or use it against nature results in a very painful end for the practitioner. Its use is considered proper only for the protection of Dharma.
- Sadhana Method: For Baglamukhi Sadhana, choose a clean place (home, temple, or other suitable clean location). Wear yellow clothes and use a yellow mat (Asana) during Sadhana. Use a turmeric mala (rosary) for mantra recitation. Offer lamps on a pile of yellow turmeric. Offering yellow clothes on the Devi's idol destroys even the greatest obstacles.
- Benefits and Purpose in Sadhana: Baglamukhi Devi's mantras destroy sorrows. During worship, do not ask for inappropriate things that are against societal welfare. The purpose of your Sadhana or worship should not be to harm anyone. Wish only for what is just and universally loved. Baglamukhi Vidya can be used for achieving both Bhoga (worldly enjoyment) and Moksha (liberation). By worshipping her, any rare thing can be obtained. However, she is especially effective (Amogha) for Stambhan, enemy pacification (Shatru Shaman), victory in war, arguments, court cases, and competitions. A person worshipping this power can cause desired suffering to their enemy and also remove their own suffering.
- Mantra: The special mantra of Mata Baglamukhi is: "Om Hleem Baglamukhi Sarva Dushtanam Vacham Mukham Padam Stambhaya Jivham Keelaya Buddhim Vinashaya Hleem Om Svaha". This mantra should be chanted daily according to one's capacity. Use a turmeric mala for chanting. Perform general worship of Mata Baglamukhi before chanting. By this, enemies are pacified, tasks are quickly accomplished, and Devi's grace remains. If someone is not getting success in any work, they should chant this mantra. It is excellent for bringing success. Another mantra is "Om Hreem Hreem Baglamukhi Devyai Hleem Svaha".

Dhumavati Sadhana

- Introduction and Significance: Dhumavati Sadhana holds a significant place among the 10 Mahavidyas. Two points are noteworthy: it is a special power of Maa Durga for resolving conflict (Kalah Nivarni Shakti), and it is Parvati's vast and protective (Raksha) form. Dhumavati is considered supreme among the 10 Mahavidyas in the field of Sadhana. Where Dhumavati Sadhana is performed, it results in enemy destruction and obstacle removal. Dhumavati Sadhana is primarily a Tantric Sadhana. Upon Siddhi (perfection) of this Sadhana, ghosts, spirits (Pishach), and other Tantric obstacles do not affect the Sadhak or their family; instead, even the strongest obstacles are resolved.

- Form and Purpose: Dhumavati's form is described as distressed by hunger (Kshudha Pidit). She is black-वर्ण (Krishna Varni). She is fearless (Abhaya) towards her devotees and the incarnation of Kala (time/death) for their enemies. She requires something for consumption. When a Sadhak performs this Sadhana, Devi is pleased and consumes their enemies, granting the Sadhak fearlessness.
- Benefits: Achieving Siddhi in Dhumavati Sadhana is considered a great fortune for a Sadhak. Those who wish to move forward in life fearlessly and without attachment should perform this Sadhana. Upon Siddhi, the Sadhak receives numerous benefits. The Sadhak's body becomes strong and firm. They are less affected by heat, cold, hunger, thirst, or illness. Upon Siddhi, Agni Deva (fire god) resides in the Sadhak's eyes. By looking intensely at an enemy and mentally chanting the Dhumavati mantra, the enemy is instantly defeated. Siddhi brings strong hypnotism (Sammohan) and attraction power to the Sadhak's eyes. Bhagwati Dhumavati protects the Sadhak. Even if the Sadhak is alone in difficult situations or among enemies, they remain unharmed; the enemies themselves become ineffective and powerless. This Sadhana allows the Sadhak to defeat their enemies, retaliate against Tantra attacks in kind, and crush their pride. Like Tara is associated with prosperity/intellect and Tripurasundari with valour/fortune, Dhumavati is the Devi who strikes enemies like a fierce thunderbolt. She grants rapid power and strength to her worshipper, helping the Sadhak directly and indirectly. Worldly comforts require the strength gained through Sadhana to remain safe from enemies and progress. In today's world, close people often plot against you. Dhumavati Sadhana is the only way to protect yourself from this. Without it, progress is difficult. It can help when problems start unexpectedly in a family, illness doesn't respond to medical treatment, and it is revealed that someone has performed black magic (Tona Totka). Dhumavati is the "Darun Vidya" (fierce knowledge). There is no better solution for removing burning poverty (Dahak Daridrya), worries, and obstacles. The great Devi, being pleased, not only consumes all the Sadhak's enemies but also ensures they lack nothing in wealth and grain because this Sadhana causes Maa Bhagwati Dhumavati to consume obstacles to gaining Lakshmi (wealth). Therefore, this power should also be worshipped for wealth acquisition. It is an unfailing Sadhana that turns misfortune into good fortune. Its effect is said to be more certain than a bullet. Dhumavati Sadhana is the seventh Mahavidya (contradicts earlier source listing Baglamukhi as eighth, but both are part of the same group). She is the great power that destroys enemies and removes sorrows. Through this Sadhana, the Sadhak gains the power to defeat evil forces and turn adverse situations favourable. Mastering time is possible through Shakti Sadhana, which allows misfortune to be changed into good fortune.
- Sadhana Method: This Sadhana can be started on Dhumavati Jayanti, any month's Ashtami (eighth lunar day), Amavasya (new moon day), or Sunday. It should be performed in a solitary place such as a empty building, cremation ground (Smashan), forest, cave, or secluded room. It is a night Sadhana and should be performed after 9 PM. First, bathe and wear red clothes. Wear a Guru Pitambar (shawl) and sit on a red woollen mat (Asana), facing west. Spread a red cloth on a stool (Chowki) in front of you.

- Sadhana Materials (Specific): A picture of Maa Bhagwati Dhumavati, Dhumavati Yantra, and Kali Hakiq Mala are specifically mentioned as having special utility. If these are not available, draw the 'Dhum' Bija (seed syllable) with lampblack (Kajal) on a copper vessel, place a betel nut (Supari) on it, and worship that as Maa Dhumavati. A Rudraksha Mala can be used for chanting.
- Preliminary Rituals: First, light a pure ghee lamp and incense sticks. Perform general Guru worship and chant the Guru Mantra four times. Seek permission from the Sadguru Dev Ji and pray for the Sadhana's unobstructed completion and success. Then, perform brief Ganesh Puja and chant the mantra "Om Vakratundaya Hum" one time. Pray to Lord Ganapati for the Sadhana's success without obstacles. Then, perform brief Bhairav Puja and chant the mantra "Om Aghor Rudraya Namah" one time. Pray to Lord Aghor Rudra Bhairav Ji for the Sadhana's unobstructed completion and success. After these steps are complete, the Sadhana will show results in a few days.

Matangi Sadhana

- Introduction and Form: Among the 10 Mahavidyas, the ninth Mahavidya is Devi Matangi. She is described as the mistress of nature. Some of her famous names are Sumukhi, Laghu Shyamala or Shyamala, Raj Matangi, Karna Matangi, Chand Matangi, Vashya Matangi, Matangeshwar, etc.. During Navratri, Devi Matangi is worshipped and propitiated on the ninth day. In this form, Lord Shiva always stays with her in his Matang form. Devi Matangi is of a deep blue colour. She wears a half-moon on her forehead. She has three radiant eyes. She is seated on a jewelled throne.
- Attributes and Symbolism: In one hand, she holds a mala of Gunja seeds. In her right hands, she holds a Veena and a Kapal (skull cup). In her left hands, she holds a Khadga (sword). Devi Matangi is in the Abhaya Mudra (gesture of fearlessness). She has a parrot with her, which is considered a symbol of speech and recitation (Vachan). In her four arms, she holds a Kapal, Veena, Khadga, and Veda (scripture). Maa Matangi is considered the Saraswati Devi of Tantrics.
- Benefits: We will be told about the Sadhana method and the amazing benefits. Through Karna Matangi Sadhana, one can know the future. One can feel upcoming events beforehand. Devi Matangi also destroys the effects of Indrajal (magic) and sorcery. She is considered the Devi of speech (Vachan), Tantra, and art. This is a Sadhana that gives results quickly. Maa gives information about future events in dreams. Maa blesses those who perform Sadhana with selfless devotion. Since results are obtained easily, it is difficult for the Sadhak to remain selfless. Being a result-oriented Sadhana, its effect tends to wear off quickly, so the Sadhak should repeat the chanting every three or six months.
- Sadhana Method and Mantras: Start the Sadhana on Gupt Navratri, Akshay Tritiya, or Matangi Jayanti or Matangi Siddhi day. Besides this, it can be started on the first day of any Navratri or any Friday. Akshay Tritiya to Vaishakh Purnima is considered the best time.

- Karna Matangi Mantra: "Om Namah Shri Matangi Amogha Satyavadi Mama Karane Avatara Avatara Satyam Kathayathi Shri Matange Namah".
- Another Mantra: "Om Namah Karna Pishachini Amogha Satyavadi Mama Karne Avatara Avatara Atit Anagata Vartaman Ni Darshaya Darshaya Mama Bhavishya Kathayaya Kathaya Hreem Karna Pishachini Svaha".
- Karna Matangi Sadhana Technique: Start the Karna Matangi Sadhana Mantra with the 'Aim' Bija. The method for this specific Sadhana is complex and best learned under the guidance of a Guru or Siddha Purusha.
- Other Useful Mantras: The source also provides other useful, self-fulfilling mantras that give immediate benefits. It is advised to chant any Siddha Mantra 1,00,000 times before using it in practice.
- Shiv Manju Ghosh Mantra: For financial problems, the Shiv Manju Ghosh Uchchista Sadhana can quickly resolve the crisis. After eating, make a Damaru shape with leftover food on the plate. Write the mantra "A Ra Va Cha La Dhi" above and below the Damaru shape with a finger. Chant this mantra 108 times in that position. Continue daily until the financial crisis is resolved. Many people have benefited from this.
- Udar Peeda Nivarak Hanuman Mantra (Stomach Pain Relief): The mantra is "Jo Jo Hanumant Dhag Jit Phal Phalita Ayura Khura". This mantra is said to be like a रामबाण (panacea/sure shot). It brings immediate improvement in the condition of a person with stomach pain. Within 24 hours, the situation improves satisfactorily. Perform daily until completely healed.
- Method for Hanuman Mantra: Two methods: 1) Chant 108 times while stroking the patient's stomach downwards. 2) Keep water or Ganga Jal in a vessel, chant the mantra 108 times to energize it, then give it to the patient to drink.

Mohini Vidya / Shiv Mohini Vidya

- Nature and Effect: Mentioned in ancient Tantra texts and Vedas. Described as the power of Vashikaran (control/attraction) and Mohini (enchantment/hypnotism). It reveals a mysterious power and leaves a deep impression. It doesn't just affect a person physically but changes their mental state and thinking. When affected, a person feels completely hypnotised. Their mental state is such that they completely deny the reality around them and feel a deep attachment (Aasakti) towards a specific person or object. This hypnotism becomes more effective when the person, while conscious, becomes completely absorbed in their desires and actions. The effect is so deep that every decision and action depends on the will of another, as if someone else is controlling their thoughts.
- Tools: Tantra Vidya uses Tratak (fixed gazing), Mantra (chanting), and Yantra (geometric diagrams) for Mohini Vidya. Tratak means gazing fixedly at a point or object without blinking to focus the mind and consciousness. Mantras intensify the effect, and Yantras activate the energy. The combination is very powerful for hypnotising someone.
- Historical Context: While precise proof is lacking, its mention exists in the Vedas. Its principles are deep and influential, found in Tantra, Dharma, culture, and life aspects.

Today, Mohini Vidya is not widely recognised but its history is old and deep. It is still considered a mysterious and powerful Vidya.

- Lord Krishna as Master: Lord Shri Krishna is described as a skilled and powerful user of Mohini Vidya. He was a master of Tantra and Mantra and had extensive knowledge of Mohini and Vashikaran. He used these powers to achieve success in various life aspects. His Mohini Vidya was so influential that he made many impossible tasks possible, and stories of his use of Mohini Vidya are still alive. His life proves that when these powers are used with right purpose and knowledge, they can affect not just an individual but society and the universe. His use was unique, making him worshipped as the best master of Mohini and Vashikaran Vidya.
- Mention in Texts: The Rigveda has a shloka revealing Mohini Vidya's power: "Hastabhyam Dashashakhabhyam Jihva Vachan Puragava Anametamyasa Prash". Its meaning: "You who are the first inspiration to my tongue, I touch you with my ten finger-like branches, by which your disease will be removed and health will increase." This is seen as an example of Mohini practice using speech and hands for healing/increasing power. Mohini Vidya, a powerful form of Tantra/Mantra, affects physical, mental, and spiritual levels. It is also mentioned in the Durga Saptashati's Kunjika Stotram: "Maran Mohan Vashya Stambhan Uchchatanadikam Path Matram Sansiddhyat Kunjika Stotram". Its meaning: "By merely reciting the Kunjika Stotram, powerful Tantra Sadhanas like Maran, Mohan, Vashikaran, Stambhan, and Uchchatan are perfected."
- Shiv Mohini Vidya Sadhana: A mysterious and powerful Sadhana mentioned in religious texts and Puranas. Achieving Siddhi can be difficult today. It can be performed on auspicious festivals, especially Mahashivratri. It has a powerful result. It can also be done on a Monday or Tuesday, but the effect is less.
- Sadhana Method: Shiv Mohini Sadhana is a one-day Sadhana. It can be done anytime from sunrise to the next sunrise. You only need a Rudraksha mala. Achieving success makes your life blessed. It must be done with faith and belief as it is a power-sensitive process and can be harmful if misused.
- Cautions: Vashikaran Sadhana should only be used for positive purposes. Misuse to harm someone is forbidden. It can affect mental and emotional balance, so it should be done carefully. Guru's guidance is essential for Siddhi in Tantra Mantra, and this Sadhana should not be done without it.

Kapal Sadhana

- Warning: This Sadhana is described as fierce (Ugra) and mysterious and can be serious and dangerous. It should only be done under the guidance of experienced Gurus and drawing on ancient texts. Do not take any step without proper knowledge and understanding. Such Sadhanas can affect physical and mental balance. The source is not responsible for any harmful or undisciplined behaviour. Work cautiously and prioritise your safety.
- Nature and Purpose: Kapal Sadhana is connected to a deep and mysterious religious practice. It involves the skull (Kapal) of a dead person, specifically the upper part, which is considered a centre of special power. Through this Sadhana, the Sadhak attempts to understand and use the energy, powers, and life mysteries of the deceased person. The skull contains accumulated energy and Sanskar (impressions) of the person's life. Focusing on the skull and including it in the divine Sadhana process can be a source of great power and Siddhi.

- Practitioners and Locations: Avghad and Aghori Sadhaks often follow this Sadhana to gain necessary power for performing fierce and terrifying (Ugra and Bhayankar) tasks. They specifically use the Kapal Patra (skull cup), believing it helps them control not only ghosts and spirits (Bhut Pret) but also their divine powers. This Sadhana attempts to understand the cycle of life and death and connect with the deeper mysterious powers of life, which often manifest as strange, frightening, and fierce practices.
- Atmosphere and Challenge: Kapal Sadhana is a fierce and terrifying Sadhana performed in desolate and scary places like cremation grounds (Shmashan or Marghat). The Sadhak attempts to use the mysterious and terrifying powers associated with the skull. In the dark night, alone in the dense darkness of the Shmashan, loud noises and fear are natural. A peculiar aspect is that the more fear experienced during practice, the more powers the Sadhak gains. This Sadhana is only for those who can maintain mental peace and remain committed to their objective despite difficulties.
- Siddhi and Duration: Siddhi requires a deep process and takes time. The Sadhana becomes more intense over time, testing the Sadhak's self-strength and patience. The more difficult it is, the more powerful and effective the Siddhi, if done with full faith and dedication. Time may vary, but Siddhi is certain eventually.
- Offerings: During and after the Sadhana, offerings such as Dhoop (incense), Deep (lamp), Bhog (food offerings - sweets, water, and Madiira/alcohol) should be offered to Kapaleshwar and the five skulls daily.
- Discipline After Sadhana: It is crucial to remain very disciplined after the Sadhana. The Sadhak must ensure they do not harm anyone, otherwise the Sadhana is broken, and suffering increases. This mysterious process requires immense power and a high mental state.
- Requirements and Materials: Kapal Sadhana is a deep and mysterious Sadhana requiring specific materials and atmosphere. The Sadhak must use these items with full faith and patience. Specific materials and items used during Sadhana are detailed.
- Sadhana Completion: After completing the Sadhana, the Sadhak should offer water and Bhog to the skulls daily while meditating and worshipping. The Sadhak needs to live a fully disciplined and pure life afterwards to avoid suffering or adverse effects. The puja and Sadhana materials help the Sadhak gain divine powers and Siddhi through the skulls. It is a fierce and deep Sadhana where success comes only with concentration, dedication, and patience.

Shakti Sadhana (General)

- Concept and Purpose: Shakti Sadhana is the practice where a person invokes Shakti in the form of Devi. It is done particularly through the worship of Maa Durga, Kali, and Lakshmi. Its aim is to awaken the hidden energy and power within a person. It helps the individual establish confidence, mental strength, and balance in various aspects of life. It is a deep inner journey connecting to the invisible world of the soul and Brahman. It develops physical and mental power and fills life with a new perspective and strength.

- Internal Awakening: It is a crucial means of awakening spiritual power. When a Sadhak performs Shakti Sadhana, they feel deep inner peace and elemental consciousness. It leads to self-realisation, recognizing one's true nature. This path connects to the supreme truth of Brahman. It's like descending into the ocean of deep self-knowledge. It gradually frees the mind and illuminates the soul with divine light.
- Benefits (General and Deity Specific): Worshipping Maa Durga awakens hidden powers for facing life's struggles and guiding towards union with Brahman. Shakti Sadhana awakens inner energy and improves physical and mental state. Worship of Durga, Kali, or Lakshmi allows their energy to enter the Sadhak. Worship of Maa Durga awakens extraordinary power for physical strength. Worship of Maa Kali provides mental courage and spiritual strength to face life's difficulties. Worship of Maa Lakshmi opens the path to economic prosperity and reduces mental stress and worry. This state of mental peace and prosperity brings balance and happiness. Shakti Sadhana establishes harmony in body and mind, giving the power to overcome any crisis.
- Experience of Inner Power: A Sadhak absorbed in Shakti Sadhana experiences invisible inner power, making them self-sufficient and independent of external resources for life's difficulties. This power strengthens them mentally to overcome any challenge. By surrendering to Durga, Kali, or Lakshmi, the Sadhak feels no problem is too big with inner strength and faith. This Sadhana provides power in every aspect of life: physical health, mental state, social relationships.
- Types of Shakti Sadhana: Each form gives inner power and guides towards balance and success.
 - Maa Durga: Symbol of power, courage, struggle. Protects the universe, represents power against evil/Adharma. Worship gives courage and strength to face challenges. Involves reciting Durga Saptashati, chanting Durga Kavach, special fasts. Awakens unique inner power, gives mental and physical strength. Sadhak becomes ready to face difficulties, gains confidence and inner balance. Reciting Durga Saptashati gives power for victory in life.
 - Maa Kali: Deep and fierce form of power. Goddess of destruction and transformation of life, destroys hidden negative energy. Worship is for removing mental and physical obstacles. Involves mantra chanting, Tantra Sadhana, special pujas. Embodies fierce power and spiritual courage. Worship destroys fear and negative thoughts, bringing experience of new power. Removes mental/inner obstacles, not just increases physical power. Chanting her mantras helps overcome negativity and emerge strong for life's struggles. Facing her power, Sadhak feels the free state of their soul is their greatest strength.
 - Maa Lakshmi: Goddess of wealth, prosperity, opulence. Blessings bring happiness, peace, prosperity. Worship brings opulence and luxury in every aspect. Main goal is obtaining wealth and prosperity. Sadhak recites Shri Suktam, considered very effective. Opens path to material prosperity and promotes mental peace and balance. Reciting Shri Suktam leads to financial success and a calm/prosperous mental state. Gives inner happiness and contentment, inspiring to live a better life. Prosperity comes not just from wealth but from mental peace/balance. Life is completely prosperous when both are present.

- Sadhana Method (General): A deep and contemplative process inspiring spiritual development and filling life with power, peace, balance. Demands discipline and dedication to connect with divine powers.
 - Selecting Location: Crucial to select a quiet and holy place free from distractions. Can be a dedicated worship area at home.
 - Mantra Chanting: Mantras hold power to bring inner peace, energy, and Devi's blessing. Mantras listed: Durga Mantra: Om Dum Durgayai Namah, Kali Mantra: Om Kleem Kali Maha Krur Maha Kruri Maha Krur Namah, Lakshmi Mantra: Om Shri Mahalakshmyai Namah. Chanting purifies mind, body, soul, attracts Devi's grace, awakens inner energy, brings power, courage, mental clarity. Pronunciation must be correct. Gives mental peace, divine power experience, confidence to face difficulties.
 - Mudras and Tantra Sadhana: Important aspects to control and awaken inner energy. Mudras establish body-mind balance/coordination, enhancing Sadhana power. Tantra Sadhana follows specific mantras/actions to bring Devi's powers into life effectively. Sadhak collects energy to receive blessings. Mudras increase peace/concentration, focus energy. Make Sadhak strong internally, experience inner power.
 - Vrat and Upavas (Fasting): Done during Sadhana to strengthen self-control and austerity. Vrat inspires disciplined life, awakens inner power. Upavas controls diet/routine for mental/physical purity/energy. Purifies mind/soul, allows receiving blessings with devotion. Purifies body, speeds up spiritual journey. Bring mental strength, physical health, spiritual development.
- Benefits (Detailed): Leads to spiritual progress, Devi's grace, brings balance, power, peace to life. Many positive changes occur.
 - Increased Confidence and Mental Strength: Sadhana greatly increases confidence and mental strength. Helps overcome fear, hesitation, mental blocks, move forward. Makes strong and self-reliant for achieving goals. With mental stability and confidence, no obstacle can stand in the way. Helps break limitations, realize potential, move towards dreams. Gives power to control mental state, cope with difficulties.
 - Physical Health and Energy: Deep effect on body. Removes weakness, makes healthy and energetic. Awakened inner power affects physical health. Circulates energy, removes mental fatigue, makes physically active. Physical exercises and meditation during Sadhana improve blood circulation, giving strength to organs. Positive energy flow increases, feeling fresh and energetic daily.
 - Positive Influence on Others: Effect extends beyond the Sadhak. Inner power and positive energy influence others. Sadhak can inspire and guide others due to their inner strength. Bringing change in life and awakening energy inspires others. Sadhak's presence becomes a source of inspiration.
 - Positive Energy and Peace: Sadhana creates positive energy flow in life and surroundings. Dedicated Sadhak's life becomes joyful and peaceful. Inner peace and balance protect from external negative influences. Energy brings mental clarity, peace, contentment. Even with struggles, faces them with confidence and courage. Moves towards goals with positive energy, others experience this energy.

Durga Saptashati Yantra Sadhana

- Introduction: An amazing and miraculous Sadhana. It is very powerful and effective, granting divine power and experience. Understanding the method is essential.
- Warning: Do not perform without the guidance of a qualified Guru. It is a serious process, improper practice can cause great harm. Only for those with an experienced Guru. If you don't have a Guru, watching can still provide beneficial knowledge.
- Significance: The Yantra is not ordinary, it is a symbol of Maa Durga's conscious energy. It can attract unseen powers, remove life's crises, grant extraordinary Siddhis. Its glory is so great that proper Sadhana can bring amazing changes. It is powerful and requires full faith in Mata Rani. Not for casual or testing purposes. Some who tried mantras saw good results, some none.
- Benefits (Detailed): Protects the Sadhak from negative forces. In today's negative/competitive environment, protects from evil and fills with positive energy. Proper Sadhana can fulfill all desires (wealth, success, health, spiritual progress). Helps Sadhak reach their goals. Maa Durga's grace makes life happy and prosperous. Awakens Sadhak's inherent powers. Fills with spiritual energy, grants divine experience. Increases mental power, intellect, confidence to face challenges. Acts as a protective shield for those facing untimely death, accidents, or unknown fear. Frees from all fear, provides divine protection. Makes Sadhak's life safe and fearless. Strengthens mentally and physically. Increases confidence, capable of facing any situation. Provides inner strength for success at every turn.
- Usage: Establish the Yantra at home or workplace. Worship it regularly and chant Durga Saptashati mantras. Keep the Yantra in a clean and holy place. Wearing the Yantra also brings benefits.

Parashakti Yoni Sadhana

- Nature of Parashakti: Parashakti is not a Devi, not a form, but the fundamental consciousness of the entire creation from which Brahma's will, Vishnu's order, and Shiva's destruction are born. She is neither male nor female, not sound nor silence. She is the Parayoni element from which the first vibration of creation emerged. The Parashakti Yoni is a mystery about which Vedas became silent and Rishis entered Samadhi when it first manifested. The term 'Yoni' here does not just mean a body part; it is the most ancient door from which energy first conceived consciousness.
- The Secret Door: This Parashakti Yoni door is not visible. It is not in temples or Tantra pictures. It is in that place where the Sadhak has gone beyond desire (Kaam), beyond the distinction of male and female, dissolving into the vibration of pure energy.

Parashakti Yoni is not imagination; it is the living vibration of the universe which manifests only in the inner consciousness of a Sadhak who is established in Shiva-bhava.

- Intensity and Requirements: This Sadhana is so intense and powerful that not every Sadhak can do it. It is not for those who just want power, but for those who dare to dissolve themselves (Visarjit). It is for those who have made Shiva-bhava their nature, not just a mantra. For those whose consciousness is naked (Nirvastra) from desire, attachment (Moh), and ego. For those who have awakened the pure stream of energy from Muladhara to Sahastrar. For whom male or female is not a subject but only the one element, Parashakti.
- Sadhana Duration: The Sadhana period is a 31-day fire test (Agni Pariksha) or a 108-night Yoni journey. It is a journey where days burn and nights dissolve into nothingness.
- Discipline: The Sadhana requires daily silence (Moun), where no mantras are spoken and no imagination is done; only solitary Shiva-bhava should exist. Tantra's discipline is harder than iron. The Sadhak must observe Brahmacharya (continence), not just physically but in thoughts, sight, and desire. This period is not just duration, but a fire sacrifice where offerings are made daily.
- Essential Materials:
 - White clothes or complete nudity with only one garment.
 - Black mat (Asana): Black symbolises the void in which Parashakti manifests.
 - Triangular Yantra: Not an ordinary Yantra, but a triangle made in the Yoni Mudra, encompassing the three fundamental vibrations of creation: desire (Ichha), knowledge (Gyan), and action (Kriya). Created with red or white sandalwood, this Yantra becomes a door to the Sadhak's consciousness.
 - One Lamp: Only one lamp is needed, not four or a row of lamps. It should burn in front of the navel, as that is the centre from which energy rises and the Sadhak's body is incinerated (Bhasm).
 - Parashakti Bija Mantra: This mantra is not in texts or scriptures. It descends from the Guru's silence. The Sadhak must chant this Bija Mantra while controlling their mind and soul during Sadhana. These materials are the key to the most secret Yoni door of the universe.
- Sadhana Method: This Sadhana is only for complete Brahmacharis, initiated in Tantra, and Sadhaks full of Shiva-bhava. Otherwise, practicing it can cause mental decay, sexual distortion, or energetic disruption.
 - Initial State of Silent Samadhi: First, bring silence, not outside but inside. The Sadhak sits alone, naked or in white clothes, on a black mat. Eyes are closed. An image appears within, a triangular Yantra just below the navel. The Yantra slowly becomes luminous, and a red vibration emerges in its center.
 - Parashakti Bija Mantra (Mental Chanting): This is only mental pronunciation; it is not a mantra but an energy signal. It is not for public chanting. It is a Bija received from the Guru in silence, chanted only through the vibration of breath and consciousness, beyond words.
 - Energy Entry - Spine Awakening: From the Yantra in front of the Sadhak rises a line that doesn't burn but incinerates every nerve. The Sadhak feels a brilliant energy rising from the triangular Yantra and climbing up their spine. This vibration rises from the Muladhara, awakening every chakra, reaching the Sahastrar (crown of the head). Upon reaching the Sahastrar, a silent explosion occurs, and the Sadhak's identity (Aham) is completely dissolved.

- Vision of Parashakti (Without Form): Upon completion of the Sadhana, the Sadhak does not see a Devi. Only a pulsating energy womb (Urja Garbha) is seen. The Sadhak sees no form, colour, or idol, but only a vast pulsating energy womb with light, rhythm, and silence. This is the same Parayoni element from which Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva emerged only as thoughts.
- Sadhana Results: Body vibration, tears from eyes, a fire-like wave in the heart, and a compassion that dissolves all distinctions. The Sadhak no longer sees male or female; they see only energy flowing in every form. Touch causes body vibration as if the Sadhak's body has become the vibration of Parashakti Yoni. Worship is no longer needed as the Sadhak is not connected to a Devi but is flowing with Parashakti.
- Confidential Bija Mantra Formula: The Bija Mantra is very fierce and powerful. It is not ordinary, not a word, but an energy sound given in a secret formula style so only Tantra and meditation-stable Sadhaks can understand it. It is not in full words or for public pronunciation. It must be chanted only mentally, in silence, and in deep Samadhi-bhava.
- Parashakti Yoni Sadhana Bija Mantra: "Shri Ekli Sauh Yoni Svaha".
 - Meaning: Shri: pure vibration of consciousness awakening Parashakti. Ekli: sound of Brahma Vidya, energy giving knowledge. Kleem: Kama Bija, but here signifies essence beyond desire. Sauh: Shiva's silent element taking the Bija to Sahastrar. Yonih: invocation of the cosmic door. Svaha: symbol of self-surrender and dissolution.
- Usage of Mantra: No pronunciation, only mental Jap. In the depth of meditation, 108 times every night. Focus on the triangular Yantra. Body in full silence and mind established in Shiva-bhava is mandatory.
- Warnings: Viewing this Sadhana with a lustful perspective can lead to mental distortion, madness, or even impotence. Guru Diksha, solitary place, full Brahmacharya, and night Sadhana are essential.

Mahakal Bhasm Sadhana

- Nature: A mysterious and fierce Tantric Sadhana born from the ash of the cremation ground (Shmashan). Ash (Bhasm) is not just leftover from a dead body but becomes a medium through which the Sadhak can control Kal (time or death). It is the mysterious dust rising from the Shmashan containing the greatest secret of life and death.
- Preparation: The preparation is the start of a mysterious journey where the Sadhak dares to go beyond death. Shmashan darkness, silence, scattered ash hide the secret that requires the Sadhak to first burn their ego. It begins by igniting the fire of silence and austerity (Tap) within the Sadhak. It is not ordinary; it is the courage to perform Sadhana with death seated in front.
- Location: The Sadhak must choose a solitary, frightening, but energetic place like a Shmashan. The place should be where a pyre has burned for three consecutive nights, as that ash is considered awakened.

- Purity and Discipline: The Sadhak's mind and body must be completely pure. It is mandatory to observe a Sattvic diet, silent vow (Moun Vrat), and Brahmacharya (continence) for seven days prior. The Sadhak must stop speaking after sunset, as Sadhana understands the language of silence.
- Ash Collection: The Sadhak must collect ash from the Shmashan with their own hands. This ash should be from a person who attained Veergati (heroic death). Such ash is believed to contain energy to confront Kal.
- Ash Purification: The ash is brought in a copper vessel and purified with Panchagavya for three days. Then it is offered at the feet of Mahakal and used as a Tilak (mark). This preparation involves burning fear and making power from ash.
- Puja Materials (Tantric): Puja materials are not common; this is a Tantric Sadhana. Every item has a deep meaning, mystery, and direct connection to power.
 - Ash from a Veergati Pyre: The centrepiece of the Sadhana, used for Tilak, Mandala, and Homa (offering in fire).
 - Copper Vessel: Holds and transfers energy, making it the most suitable vessel.
 - Black Cloth or Black Mat (Asana): Should be worn/used by the Sadhak as black collects energy and gives courage to face fear.
 - Rudraksha Mala: Used for chanting.
- Siddhi Signs: When a Sadhak completes Mahakal Bhasm Sadhana with full devotion, method, and timeliness, they start getting deep, mysterious, and definite signs indicating Siddhi is near or attained. These are internal experiences and cosmic signs.
 - The ash sometimes forms shapes in the Sadhak's hand, like a Trishul, eye (Netra), or Rudraksha.
 - A moment comes when the Sadhak feels everything has become void/zero (Shunya); sounds stop, thoughts are calm, only darkness and energy exist. The Sadhak enters the door of Kal.
 - Before Siddhi, the Sadhak has a very clear dream seeing themselves in the Shmashan before Bhairav or in a divine form covered in ash.
 - Sometimes Bhairav himself appears and says, "Now you are ready, now you have the power to confront Kal".
 - The Sadhak feels a light rising from within; the body feels light, the head heavy, and the heart is beyond palpitations. This is a sign that the energy of Siddhi is active.
 - After the final day, the Sadhak's soul achieves stability; there is no fear, neither of death nor any obstacle. They only see a power rising from the ash that has awakened Mahakal within them.

Mahakali Sadhana

- Significance: Mahakali Sadhana is very profound and mysterious. Mata Mahakali is not just the goddess of destruction but the embodiment of protection and spiritual upliftment.
- Auspicious Time: On the night of Amavasya (new moon), when Tamas (darkness) is strongest, Mahakali Sadhana can establish control over Tamasic powers.

- Benefits: Grants self-strength, divine power, and the blessing of self-protection. Awakens amazing hidden power within the Sadhak, destroying fear and establishing stability and balance. It is a deep spiritual process affecting body, mind, and soul, bringing divine awakening, spiritual power, and confidence. Provides rare blessings of enemy destruction, fear removal, freedom from disease (Rog Mukti), and spiritual balance. On Amavasya night, divine energy makes the Sadhak unconquerable internally and externally.
- Form Symbolism: Mahakali's form is the ideal balance of destruction and protection. She is the universal power destroying Adharma, imbalance, and negativity, protecting Dharma, balance, and positivity.
 - Black colour: Symbol of infinity and cosmic power, showing her existence is beyond time and space.
 - Garland of skulls (Nar Mund Mala): Indicates she has destroyed ego, ignorance, and Adharma.
 - Four hands (Khadga/sword, Trishul, severed head): Symbols of destructive power ready to annihilate Adharma and injustice.
 - Lord Shiva under her feet (calm form): Signifies that her destructive power is for establishing balance.
- Balance of Destruction and Protection: Sadhana needs coordination of destruction and protection. With full surrender, her destructive power destroys inner negative energy and fear. Her protective power infuses divine peace and self-strength. This balance brings amazing mental stability and confidence.
- Qualifications Required: Successful Siddhi requires special mental, physical, and spiritual qualifications. Suitable only for Sadhaks who are mentally balanced and spiritually mature. Tantric Sadhanas have intense effects; if the Sadhak is not fully qualified, severe physical, mental, and spiritual side effects can occur. Full adherence to required qualifications is mandatory. Mind, body, and soul must be pure and balanced. If mental state or strength is weak, handling the intense energies is difficult. Mental balance, spiritual maturity, and initiation (Diksha) from a Guru are essential.
- Brahmacharya (Continence): Essential in Mahakali Sadhana. Not just physical restraint, but control of mind, speech, and action. Purity of thought, word, and deed must be maintained. Conserves energy, strengthens mental and spiritual power. Mind becomes calm and focused, intensifying the mantra/Sadhana effect. Awakens Kundalini energy, infuses spiritual power.
- Sattvic and Pure Diet: Essential for pure and positive Sadhana energy. Connected to mental and spiritual balance. Suppresses Tamasic and Rajasic energies. Sattvic diet includes fruits, milk, honey, moong dal, dry fruits, Ganga Jal, ghee. Complete abstinence from meat, alcohol, garlic, onion, and Tamasic food is required. Infuses Sattvic energy, keeps mind and body stable during Sadhana.
- Mental and Physical Purity: Essential. Bathe before Sadhana for body purity, wear red or black clothes. Sit on a clean mat (Kush or red/black). Keep mind calm and stable, block external thoughts. Choose a solitary and quiet place to avoid noise/distraction.
- Challenges: Tamasic and terrifying energies can affect mind and body. Mentally unstable person cannot succeed. Fear, illusion (Bhram), and doubt must be completely abandoned. Sadhak should feel self-strength and fearlessness. Full attention and concentration necessary. Highly fruitful for Guru-initiated Sadhaks.

- Warning (Who Should Avoid): Sadhana is intense; requires capacity to tolerate intense energy. Mahakali's energy is balanced destruction/protection, challenging for mentally weak/unstable. Can cause mental/physical harm if not prepared. Certain individuals are advised to stay away. Intense energy needs mental balance, self-strength, spiritual maturity. Fear, doubt, instability, physical weakness make it harmful. Only those fully prepared mentally, spiritually, and physically should do it. Weak mental state leads to illusion, fear, imbalance. Tantric experiences can cause mental instability. Losing mental balance can have severe life consequences.
- Diet and Brahmacharya Strictness: Tamasic/Rajasic food (meat, alcohol, garlic, fried/spicy food) disrupts Sadhana energy. Causes body/mind instability, destroys effect. Not observing Brahmacharya dissipates energy, fails Sadhana. Sattvic diet keeps energy stable, Brahmacharya conserves mental/spiritual power.
- Pregnancy: Pregnant women's bodies cannot tolerate the intense energy. The imaginative energy can harm the fetus. Pregnant women should avoid stress, while this Sadhana can cause it.
- Mental Strength and Fearlessness: Essential. Tantric experiences can be mysterious and intense. Weak willpower cannot tolerate them. Fear, illusion, doubt cause failure. Weak willpower cannot fully receive effects. Fearlessness and self-strength necessary. Fear/doubt can make energy harmful.
- Sadhana Materials: Selection is crucial for success. Purity, correctness of selection are important. Each item has Tantric and spiritual significance. They awaken Mahakali's fierce and protective energy. Choice depends on Dakshina Marga (Sattvic/simple materials) or Vama Marga (Tamasic/intense energy materials). Correct use intensifies effect, gives quick Siddhi. Materials must be purified/consecrated for positive energy.
 - Red and Black Clothes: Very important. Black symbolises absorbing Tamasic energy and negativity. Red symbolises power, destruction, energy. Help awaken fierce/destructive energy. Colour activates chakras/energy balance.
 - Kali Hakiq Mala and Rudraksha Mala: Special importance. Kali Hakiq mala awakens fierce/Tamasic energy. Rudraksha mala establishes energy balance. Chanting with Hakiq mala intensifies destructive power. Chanting with Rudraksha establishes Shiva-Shakti balance.
 - Bhasm, Kajal, Rakta Chandan: Special importance. Bhasm symbolises destructive energy. Kajal protects from Tamasic energy, sharpens sight. Rakta Chandan awakens gentle/protective energy.
 - Mustard Oil Lamp: Special importance. Destroys Tamasic energy, purifies place. Attracts grace quickly.
 - Lemon: Used for destroying negative energies. Helps remove Tamasic powers. Homa/Bali with lemon destroys negative powers.
 - Alcohol: Used as Bhog (offering). Key part of Vama Marga Sadhana. Offers awaken Tamasic energy.
 - Meat (Mass): Used in fierce Tantric Sadhana. Awakens Tamasic energy, gives quick Siddhi in Tamasic Sadhana.

- Sadhana Method (Deep/Secret): Very mysterious and deep. High-level Tantra Sadhana awakening destruction/protection energy. Performing on special Amavasya night conjunction brings quick Siddhi. Mind, body, soul must be pure/balanced. Time, place, method must follow Shastras for quick grace. Sadhak must be stable, fearless, calm. Intense energy flow around Sadhak requires managing capacity. Fear, doubt, instability can obstruct. Correct method brings amazing power, self-strength, divine sight.
- Time and Place Selection: Very important. Best time: second quarter of Amavasya night (12 AM to 3 AM). Tamasic energies active, Mahakali's destructive effect is strong. Intense power activates quickly.
 - Locations:
 - Shmashan Bhumi (Cremation Ground): Mahakali's destructive energy very active.
 - Under Peepal Tree: Controls Tamasic energy, awakens positive energy.
 - Solitary Place: Avoids external noise/disruption.
 - Secret Place: Effect can be lost if done publicly.
- Preparation before Sadhana: Mental and physical preparation essential. Bath before Sadhana for purity of body/mind, wear red or black clothes. Sit on red mat or Kush mat. Purify Sadhana area with Ganga Jal or Gomutra. Apply Tilak of Bhasm and Rakta Chandan on body. Sit facing south (contradicts Vedic method below which says north). Place mustard oil lamp before Mahakali.
- Vedic Method Preparation: Body and mind purification essential. Bath in Ganga Jal or holy water during second quarter of night (12 AM to 3 AM). Wear red or black clothes. Chant purification mantra "Om Apavitrah Pavitro Va Sarva Vastham Gatoh Ya Smaret Pundarikaksham Sa Bahyabhyantara Shuchih" 11 times before Sadhana for self and mental purification. Removes impurities, purifies/balances chakras. Body/mind free from Tamasic energy effect.
- Asana Selection (Vedic Method): Sits on red or black mat or Kush mat. Face north (contradicts Tantric method preparation above which says south). Body stable/straight, mind calm, block external thoughts, eyes closed, focus on Mahakali's form. Red: power/destruction; Black: suppression of Tamasic energy. North: considered center of Shiva element, helps awaken Mahakali's fierce energy.
- Triangular Yantra and Mandala (Vedic Method): Important for success. Create triangular Yantra at Sadhana spot with Rakta Chandan, Bhasm, and Kajal. Light mustard oil lamps at the four corners of the Yantra. Place Mahakali's idol or picture in the center. Keep lamp flame steady, maintain Yantra purity. Triangular Yantra: Tantric energy symbol. Lamp fire: purifies Tamasic powers. Mahakali's image: her energy flows into Sadhak.
- Invocation (Vedic Method): Connects Sadhak to Mahakali's destructive power. Close eyes, deep breath, chant invocation mantra "Om Kreem Kalika Namah". Visualize Mahakali's black form (skull garland, blood-stained tongue, four hands, fierce eyes, destructive form). Focus mind completely on her form during invocation. Energy activates within Sadhak.
- Mantra Jap (Vedic Method): Key to Sadhana success. Use Rudraksha or Kali Hakiq mala. Chant mantras: "Om Kreem Kreem Kreem Kalika Namah" and "Om Aim Hreem Kleem" Kalika Namah". Chant 108 or 1008 times. Visualize Mahakali's form during chanting. Her power flows into Sadhak, mind becomes calm/stable.

- Results and Siddhi Signs (Vedic Method): Effects felt immediately. Self-strength, courage, mental stability infuses Sadhak. Negative energies are destroyed, enemies defeated. After Sadhana, experience divinity in mind/soul. Success brings special signs. Recognizing these signs confirms Sadhana success and Mahakali's grace.
 - Immense Power in Mind: Sudden infusion of self-strength and mental power. Fear disappears, ability to face any situation. Her destructive energy flows within. Increase in courage, stability, confidence.
 - Vision of Mahakali in Dream: Sees her fierce or calm form in dreams. May give guidance or messages. Sometimes sees fire, corpses, or blood (signs of Siddhi). Means her grace is established, gets inspiration to progress.
 - Automatic Destruction or Change in Enemy Behavior: Enemies feel fear. Naturally defeated. Their behaviour may suddenly become calm and cooperative. Her destructive power controls enemies. Tantric power defeats enemies.
 - Sudden Freedom from Fear and Mental Stress: Mental peace infuses. Experiences complete fearlessness and confidence without external reason. Spiritual energy flows. Her power is stable within, protected by her grace.
 - Body Vibration or Energy Flow: May feel vibration or tingling during or after mantra. Energy flow felt in different chakras. Mild pressure or heat near head/heart. Her power has permanently entered. Muladhara, Ajna, Sahastrar chakras activated.
- Cautions and Potential Dangers: Extremely powerful and fierce. Involves destructive and Tamasic energy. Serious negative consequences if not done with purity and rules. Extreme caution necessary.
 - Do not treat as joke/entertainment: Never do for fun or showing off power. Adverse effects if done without faith/surrender. Taking her power lightly is fatal. Do with full surrender and faith.
 - Stop immediately if afraid: If discomfort, fear, or mental unrest occurs, stop Sadhana. Consult Guru before restarting. Fear indicates obstruction. Only do with mental stability and fearlessness.
 - Mantra pronunciation must be clear and pure: Wrong pronunciation can make Sadhana useless. Impure mantra chanting can create negative energy. Keep mind completely stable during chanting. Chanting activates her power. Impure chanting can have adverse results.
 - Do not talk during Sadhana: Observe silence. External conversation obstructs energy flow. Keep mobile/devices away. Maintain full concentration. External disturbance affects energy.
 - Keep room door closed: Prevents external environment interference. No other person should be in the room. Closing door controls energy flow. External disturbance affects energy. Keeping door closed stabilises energy flow.
 - Consult Guru before re-attempting failed Sadhana: Do not try again by yourself. Seek guidance from Guru. Fierce Sadhana without Guru can have opposite results. Guru guidance is mandatory. Guru's grace is necessary to control Mahakali's power.

Maa Amba Bhagwati Sadhana

- Nature and Purpose: A deep and powerful Sadhana. Done specifically for power, prosperity, and mental peace. Helps awaken inner strength. An effective way to overcome life's difficulties. Performed through Tantra, Mantra, and deep meditation to strengthen mental state and get blessings of prosperity.
- Objectives: Brings power and prosperity and is a symbol of a deep inner journey. Fills with mental peace, balance, and confidence. Awakens an invisible power that removes physical fatigue and strengthens mental courage.
- Experience of Divine Energy: Sadhak experiences divine energy, which gives strength to face the external world and frees from inner weakness and negativity. Mind and body get new energy for overcoming difficulties.
- Prosperity and Wealth: Brings blessings of prosperity and opulence. Chanting her mantras helps open the path to wealth and prosperity. Helps solve problems related to wealth or other areas. Regular practice with devotion brings material, mental, and spiritual prosperity, giving life a new direction.
- Mental Peace and Balance: Addresses common problems of mental stress and worry. Brings inner peace and balance, helping face problems easily and view them from a new perspective. Calms mental confusion, creates inner peace and balance (stability and calmness). An amazing way to get relief from mental stress and guidance towards self-realisation.
- Inner Power and Courage: Provides inner power and courage to face any difficulty with confidence (economic, physical, mental). Helps overcome any crisis and successfully direct life.
- Overall Benefits: An amazing Sadhana giving power, prosperity, mental peace, and the unique ability to overcome life's difficulties. Makes you feel balanced, prosperous, and powerful.
- Sadhana Method: A deep and divine process done with great faith, dedication, and according to method. Balances mental and physical state, removes negativity, brings positive energy and power experience.
 - Timing: Recommended in the morning and evening. Sunrise and sunset times are considered best. Morning has freshness and positive energy. Evening is calm and pure, ideal for deep meditation. Negative energy is less at these times.
 - Mantra Jap: The main mantra is "Om Aim Hreem Ambayai Namah". Symbol of power, prosperity, mental peace. Not just words, but energy flow bringing deep peace and power. Chanting 108 times is essential.
 - Rosary: Use a Rudraksha mala for chanting. Ensures correct energy flow and gives more effective results. Chanting on each bead brings mental peace and inner power. Should be done regularly morning and evening. Mind must be fully balanced and focused during chanting. It's a time for deep meditation and inner experience.

- Meditation: Sit in a quiet place, close eyes, meditate. Feel Maa Amba Bhagwati's power, pray for her blessing. Keep mental state pure and stable to feel her energy. Concentrate emotions and faith for a real experience.
- Vrat (Fast): Can be done as a Vrat for physical, mental, and spiritual purity. Should eat vegetarian food. Avoid negative thoughts and emotions for mental purity.
- Timing (Specific Days): Can be done any day. Especially effective during Navratri. Worship and Sadhana during this time have intense effects, bringing amazing changes. However, can be done anytime of year.
- Specific Benefits (Detailed):
 - Awakening Inner Power: Helps awaken hidden inner power. Gives confidence and mental courage to face difficult situations. Provides spiritual progress and mental strength.
 - Positive Energy: Correct mantra chanting creates positive energy around Sadhak, spreading to surroundings. Removes negativity and obstacles gradually.
 - Overcoming Difficulties: Especially effective in removing difficulties and problems. Get her blessing to solve life's problems. Helps get rid of any mental, physical, or economic problems.
 - Siddhis and Prosperity: Regular practice brings Tantra and Mantra Siddhis. Leads to prosperity and opulence. Helps open doors to wealth, success, and progress.
 - Self-Control and Realisation: Sadhak learns control over their soul and senses. Guides towards self-realisation, recognizing inner powers and using them correctly.
- Conclusion: An effective and powerful Sadhana giving power, prosperity, and mental peace. A significant step towards overcoming problems and spiritual progress. Brings big changes and positive results if done correctly and faithfully.

Maran Tantra Vidya

- Context in Tantra: Maran Tantra is discussed in ancient literature, including the Agni Purana. The Agni Purana describes the Shatkarma (six actions) in Tantra: Shanti Karma (pacification), Vashikaran (control/attraction), Stambhan (immobilisation), Vidveshan (causing enmity), Uchchatan (driving away), and Maran (killing/destruction). It also lists nine uses of Tantra: Maran, Mohan, Stambhan, Vidveshan, Uchchatan, Vashikaran, Akarshan (attraction), Yakshini Sadhana, and Rasayana Kriya.
- Methods and Practices: Various deities and practices are used. Aghoris use Shiva Sadhana, Shava Sadhana (corpse worship), and Shmashan Sadhana. Many people use Bhairav Sadhana, Naga Sadhana, Paishachini Sadhana, Yakshini Sadhana, or Rudra Sadhana.
- Lower Level Uses: Tantra is also claimed to have lower level uses like removing evil eye (Nazar Lagna), madness (Unmad), spirit possession (Bhutonmad), planetary ill effects (Graho ka Anishta), bad days, externally motivated spells (Abhichar), mental agitation. It is claimed to heal physical diseases, snake/scorpion bites, and poisonous boils.

- Core Purpose: The original aim of Tantric Sadhana is Siddhi (self-realisation), done through inward-focused practices. There are three paths: Vama Marga, Dakshina Marga, and Madhyama Marga.
- Definition of Maran: According to Agni Purana, Maran is considered a Nishta Karma (vile/low act). Maran means causing death or death-like suffering.
- Mechanisms of Maran: This includes increasing the Vayu element (causing memory loss, buzzing in ears, nerve/bone pain/disorder), increasing the Pitta element (disrupting digestion, causing boils, gangrene, cancer), increasing the Kapha element (causing asthma, bronchitis, cough). Agni Purana has many uses for Maran, Mohan, Uchchatan. Maran is used for destroying enemies.
- Types of Maran:
 - Instant Death: Practices like Ghat or Kratya are famous. These are powerful Tantric fire-weapons, invisible but strike like a bullet to kill the enemy.
 - Slow Maran (Manda Maran): Practices to make someone ill. Can cause diseases like fever, diarrhea, pain, paralysis, madness, delusion, similar to germ warfare.
- Possibility and Ethics: The sources state that while ethics are a separate question, such practices are possible, not impossible. Just as poison or weapons can kill, there can be invisible means (like fatal rays) that concentrate nature's destructive particles to attack and kill a target. Or direct disease germs to a specific person. Ancient curses (Shrap) were similar, concentrating spiritual powers. Tantric Abhichara can also harm others.
- Cost to Practitioner: It is important to note that such practices significantly deplete the practitioner's power. They require extraordinary practices to replenish it, like a mother after childbirth or a snake after biting.
- Countering Maran: Just as Tantra can be used for Maran, Mohan, Uchchatan, a skilled Tantric can also stop these practices, neutralize them, or even reverse the attack back onto the practitioner. Reversing practices like Ghat, Kratya, Chowki onto the practitioner can cause immense disaster for them.
- Ethical Prohibition and Secrecy: Such harmful practices happen and are possible through Tantra Vidya. However, from the perspective of ethics, dharma, humanity, and divine law, they are absolutely improper and undesirable. If such secret killings became common, it would cause great chaos, destroy goodwill and trust, and make everyone suspicious of others. Therefore, Indian Tantrics declared these practices forbidden and kept their methods secret. Like the secrets of atomic bombs are kept secret to prevent misuse, these Abhicharas are also kept completely confidential.
- Mechanism Involving Spirits: When someone uses Maran Tantra, they first need to find a Jiva (spirit) that is wandering in the universe, one that died an Akala Mrityu (untimely death). For example, to kill someone in an accident, the Tantric needs to redirect a spirit from an accident towards the target using a mantra. If someone died by vomiting blood, redirecting that spirit means the target will also die by vomiting blood. If someone hanged themselves, redirecting that spirit means the target will also die by hanging.
- Symptoms of Maran Tantra Attack: The body resists negative energy attacks. The heartbeat becomes faster than normal. The deadlier the attack, the faster the pulse. Breathing rate increases. This Vidya is very dangerous.

- Putli Vidya (Doll Ritual): Mentioned as a similar practice. African Voodoo is mentioned as similar (process unknown). The Aghor path process was observed and perfected. It is a Vidya, not just destructive. Can heal serious, incurable diseases remotely. Can be used from Vashikaran, Mohan, Stambhan to Maran.
- Putli Vidya Process:
 - Know the enemy's Nakshatra (lunar mansion).
 - Select materials based on Nakshatra from items like black soil, ash from pyre or burned object of target, salt, ginger, pepper, kitchen soot, garlic, asafoetida, red ochre, mustard (yellow/black), sugarcane juice/jaggery, neem bark paste. Make a doll from Urad flour. Implant hair and body hair.
 - The doll varies by Nakshatra (108 types) and length.
 - Doll proportions (head-neck, waist-shoulders, below waist) are specific.
 - Ritual Method: The method is very difficult. Uses astrological timings (8th house for inauspicious acts, 5th for auspicious). Also considers time/Rashi alignment.
 - Amrit Sthan and Vish Sthan: Knowledge of these "nectar spots" and "poison spots" in the body is needed. Their movement varies daily based on lunar phase and differs for male/female. This position is chosen according to the action.
- 5. Pran Pratishtha: Life force is infused into the doll. This is a separate process. Then ritual actions and Homa are performed. After Pran Pratishtha, actions like Vashikaran, Akarshan, Vidveshan, Stambhan, Uchchatan, Maran are done based on auspicious/inauspicious timings, Rashi, target's condition. Astrological yogas like Vish Yoga, Mrityu Yoga are used for inauspicious actions. It is a complex Tantra Kriya taking months.
 - Amrit Sthan and Vish Sthan Locations: Locations listed for men and women based on lunar phase (Shukla Pratipada to Purnima, Krishna Pratipada to Amavasya) and their movement (upwards, downwards, circular).
 - Marma Sthan (Vital Points): 38 mysterious Marma sthans are listed (two thumbs, knees, thighs, back, etc.).
 - Doll Construction Materials: Target's hair, used lower garments, potter's wheel clay, bark of target's Nakshatra tree, Urad flour, pepper, red ochre (for auspicious). For inauspicious: kitchen soot, pyre ash, rock/sea salt, asafoetida, dry ginger, garlic are added. All materials except hair are ground. Hair is implanted.
 - Effect of Doll: Hair, teeth, etc., retain energy for 90 days, producing energy positive to the person's body. The body is the receiver. Piercing, cutting, heating, immersing the doll affects the target. It is very powerful, affecting the person anywhere on Earth. Causes severe pain (like needle pricks, spear jabs, cutting, tearing), fever, madness. No treatment works as long as the doll is being tormented.
- Diagnosis and Remedy: Finding and destroying the doll is impossible. An alternative remedy is possible: change the victim's entire energy equation so they are no longer negative to the doll's waves; the waves will keep searching. It is surprising how this principle is used in missiles, mobile phones, radio signals, sensors. People consider these things magic or black magic, but they work on scientific principles of waves.

- Per Vidya Bhakshani Prayoga (Consuming Other's Vidya): This mantra destroys/neutralizes the opponent's Vidya. Achieved by 1 lakh japa (completed in 14-21 days). If successful, no Vidya works within 5 km. By adding a specific counter-mantra (Viparit Pratya Mantra) after this mantra, it can destroy the Kriya (action).
- Sankalpa: The intention for performing the Per Vidya Bhakshani Prayoga is provided.
- Per Vidya Bhakshani Mantra: A 127-letter mantra is provided. (The structure is given: Om Hreem Shreem Hreem Gleem Aim Kreem Hum Kshraum Baglamukhi Par Prayogam Grasa Grasa Om Aim Brahmastra Rupini Par Vidya Grasini Bhakshaya Bhakshaya Om Aim Par Prajnaharini Prajna Bhramshaya Bhramshaya Om Aim Stambhanastra Rupini Buddhim Nashaya Nashaya Hreem Gyan Bhaksha Bhaksha Om Aim Baglamukhi Hum Phat Swaha). The part "Aim Kreem Hum Kshraum Baglamukhi" is read together from Hreem to Kshraum.
- Viniyoga, Rishyadi Nyasa, Angyasa, Dhyana: The application, placement of Rishis etc., placement on body parts, and meditation instructions for this mantra are provided. The Dhyana describes the Devi as all mantras, all-attractive, and consuming all Vidya.
- Havan Materials: Turmeric, yellow mustard, whole red chillies, and Havan material mixed with bitter oil.
- Warning: Before this Prayoga, obtain initiation (Diksha) from a Guru initiated in Dakshinachara or Vamachara Baglamukhi practice. Be careful in selecting a Guru. Do not perform any practice without the supervision of an experienced Guru.

Mrit Sanjeevani Sadhana

- Concept: A Vidya to bring life back from the door of death. Secret, powerful, for those who consider death a Sadhana. Some Vidyas are for experience, not just knowing. A mysterious journey taking the soul beyond death. Not a mantra, medicine, or story, but the most secret sound of the cosmos that can revive the dead. Heard only by those who don't fear death but dare to master it. Not Sadhana, but rebirth of the soul.
- Nature and Scope: Vidya beyond disease and death. A mysterious and rare Vidya that crosses the boundaries between life and death. Death is inevitable, but is it the end? Is there a way beyond? Is there power to bring life back?. These questions are explored in the secret branches of the Atharvaveda, where this Sadhana is hidden, known as Mrit Sanjeevani Kalpa Sadhana. It is not ordinary Tantra/Mantra/medicine; it can cross the invisible boundary, revive life, and restore energy lost to decay, disease, and death.
- Possibility and Secrecy: Is it really possible? This Sadhana is for those who want to deeply understand the connection between soul and life energy and explore if death is only physical or if there is a hidden power that can bring back a whole life from an incomplete death. It teaches that disease and death are not just physical but spiritual truths that can be changed by inner powers. Proper energy flow gives power and life to both body and soul. The source questions why such power and knowledge have been kept secret.

- Purpose and Custodians: Today, Mrit Sanjeevani is a firm belief, a decisive step towards spiritual perfection. Misuse can be self-destructive. Only one who understands the mystery of life and death can do it correctly. Given to those with a pure soul and unique purpose for the welfare of the entire universe, not just for self-interest. Proper use reveals the soul's existence beyond death. It is kept as a secret and highly sacred method.
- Intensity and Tradition: Deep, secret, spiritually powerful. Highest level Tantric process, an unearthly experience connecting the Sadhak to power beyond life and death. Every aspect is hidden, attempting to open nature's deepest secrets (eternity of life, existence beyond death). Not for ordinary people; the path is dangerous, requiring a deep mindset. It has been preserved silently through Guru tradition for centuries. The highest knowledge was only attained by Yogis, Tantrics, and Saints who lived their life as a Sadhana. Taught secretly in the Guru-Shishya tradition. Not revealed to all, as misuse can lead to spiritual destruction. It reaches those who have completed full Sadhana, who are physically and mentally strong, and have stepped onto the path of spiritual awakening. Limited to special and responsible individuals.
- Purity of Objective: Purity in Sadhana is vital for this Vidya. Only one with a pure and self-benefiting objective can walk this path. If used for personal gain, results can be terrifying and destructive. Spiritual maturity and pure purpose are the main pillars.
- Meaning of Mrit Sanjeevani: Mrit: expresses death or the dying state, body/soul damaged, losing life energy, death near, indication of moment life energy is lost. Sanjeevani: source of divine energy that can revive dead/sick life, unearthly power connecting soul to physical/mental existence, fills body with Pran Shakti (life-giving energy). Means not only reviving physical life but also spiritual life.
- Source and Tantric Basis: Originates from the secret branches of the Atharvaveda. Not a common text, from secret branches forbidden to Vedic scholars today. Branches are silent, in the stillness of Shrutis, containing energy vibration, not mantra sound. It is a Tantric compilation (Samahar), not based on a single Tantra. It combines three main Tantric streams:
 - Bhairavi Tantra: Transforms death at the peak of power into liberation (Moksha).
 - Garud Tantra: Famous for curing disease and poison, repository of life protection methods.
 - Kaumar Tantra: A rare path changing the pure energy of childhood into life force.
 - This combination creates a deep bridge between life and death.
- Pillars of this Divine Sadhana:
 - Sanjeevani Bija Mantra: Not a common Bija Mantra. It is an energy cycle connecting the Sadhak's inner Pran energy to divinity. Not written in any text; descends from Guru's heart to disciple's soul. Pronunciation takes consciousness beyond the body to command death, not beg. Siddhi achieved silently in a deep state, on a specific Yantra and Asana, in the third Prahar (quarter) of the night.
 - Sanjeevani Kalpa Aushadhi (Medicine): Complementary to the mantra. Uses rare forest herbs from specific seasons/places (near Shmashans, mountain caves, active only on Chandra Grahan night). Not just consumed, but consecrated/worn, used as smoke offering (Dhumra) to activate the subtle body, mixed with energized water to raise consciousness. Medicine touches not just body but soul.

- Yam Bhairav Dhyān: The most courageous and decisive stage. Sadhak focuses on the form common people call death, but Sadhak sees as the threshold of transition. Yam Bhairav: lord of death, protector of the door of rebirth. Involves invoking the third eye (Trineta) on the skull (Kapal), offering blood-red flowers to the Bhairav Pindi, sitting in a specific Tantric Mudra, and meditating on Yam Bhairav's form until the heart rate slows. Teaches control over death's fearful energy, which transforms the Sadhana into Sanjeevani.
- Sadhana Method: Born in the night's silence, standing at death's door, inviting life back. Performed at midnight of Purnima (full moon) or Amavasya (new moon). This is when lunar and Tamasic energy are at their peak, and doors to subtle realms are open. The Sadhana begins at this junction when the line between death and life is blurred.
- Sadhana Duration: It is an intensive Sadhana of 21 days. The Sadhak must not only chant mantras but also purify themselves. It must be completed in 21 days.
- Diet: Only Sattvic, without garlic/onion, specific Tantric approved diet. No salt or spices. Purpose: heat the body to reveal the soul.
- Mantra Jap Method: At night in darkness and silence. Sadhak sits on a specific Yantra (drawn on Bhoj Patra or pure earth from Siddha earth). The secret Bija Mantra is "Mrit Sanjeevani Mahashakti Namah". Pronunciation pulls consciousness out of the body and connects to energy beyond death. The mantra is chanted 108 times daily with specific Pranayama and Mudra. Done in a solitary place free from external interference.
- Tantric Homa (Havan): Three special stages on the 5th, 11th, and 17th days, called transition days. Specific offerings are made: dry herbs, blood-red flowers, ghee, and special life Sanjeevani powder.

Sheetla Chandika Shmashan Sadhana

- Nature: A Tantric secret revealed to those who hear the Devi's whisper in the breath of death. When every being holds its breath in fear, an energy awakens: Sheetla Chandika. While in folk belief she is a healer of diseases/smallpox, in Tantric texts, she appears in a fierce and hidden form. This form of Mata Sheetla does not hide in temple bells or worship rituals. This Devi resides in the ash of the Shmashan, among dead bodies, where life and death touch.
- Purpose: Her name is revealed only to Sadhaks who see disease not just as a physical problem but a war of energies. This Sadhana is not just for freedom from disease, but for controlling the energy centers behind diseases, getting rid of Preta obstacles, and understanding/controlling death's fierce messages.
- Benefits: Performing this Sadhana brings many benefits.
 - Divine Disease Sight (Divya Rog Drishti): Sadhak knows about disease before it comes.
 - Curing Dead/Dying (Mrita Rog Nivaran): One can go to the final boundary of life (implied: heal those near death).

- Controlling Preta Obstacles: Gives power to control Preta obstacles and pacify souls that cause disease in others.
- Requirements: Possible only when the Sadhak performs Sadhana sitting on their knees in the dirt of the Shmashan. Eyes closed, invoking the form of Sheetla Chandika in the Shmashan.
- Source Texts: Her name is in those Tantra texts that only someone who has seen the boundaries of life and death can read. Mentioned in Guli Tantra, Sheetlopanishad, and the secret Tantric branches of the Atharvaveda.
- Power: It is a mistake to see her only as an epidemic destroyer. This Devi can catch death and turn it around. She can pull back a sinking soul if the Sadhak knows the art of invocation.
- Practitioners: This Sadhana is for those connected to the Tantric tradition. Those who understand Tantric healing not just through herbs, but through energy elements, Bhuta Shakti, and subtle causes of disease. They read disease like a prophecy. Her power is so fierce that no fearful spirits or black magic can harm the Sadhak. It is for those who want a protective shield from the death sentence (untimely death). An invisible shield keeping untimely death away. For those who want to control diseases caused by Preta and Pishach (which doctors and medicine cannot identify or cure).
- Sadhana as War: Sheetla Chandika Sadhana is not medicine, but a war. This war is not external but internal, where the Sadhak must confront their own fear, disease, and death.
- Form: Extremely fierce, blood-red color, terrifying, adorned with ash. A garland of dead skulls on her head. In her hands, not a broom, but a Khadga (sword), Trishul, and flame of fire (Agni Shikha). Her vehicle is not a donkey, but a blood-stained Shmashan Bhairav. Fire from her eyes, blood drops on her tongue, Shmashan ash on her body. This Devi controls burning sensation (Daha), disease (Rog), death (Maran), and curses (Shap).
- Sadhana Method: This Sadhana demands ash, not Tilak; smoke, not incense; a lamp burning in the shadow of death, not light. Not ordinary; it is a resolve to converse with the unknown that the world calls death, but the Sadhak calls Mata. It cannot be done any day or place; it is bound by the permission of time and place.
- Timing: Chosen by the night, specifically special nights.
 - Gupt Amavasya: When Dev (divine) and Preta (spirit) realms intermingle.
 - Holi Night: When the fierce form of the Devi peeks out from within the fire.
 - Mahalaya Pitru Paksha Ashtami or Chaturdashi: When ancestor souls are near Earth and the veil of death is thinnest.
- Location: Can only be where the hot ash of a pyre has recently cooled. Where the memory of the dead still floats in the air. An active Shmashan where death has recently occurred. If ash of a corpse is not available, one can sit under a Peepal tree.
- Sitting Position: The Sadhak must sit facing east. East is the door of new consciousness and life, and the Devi turns back death from there.
- Time of Night: The first Prahar (quarter) of the night is chosen. This is when nature is sleeping, and only Shakti is awake.

- Initial State: The Sadhak sits quietly, applying ash to their forehead (Kapal), in a triangle. Only ash, silence, and the sound of a dog howling far away. Then the Sadhak speaks softly: "Hey Chandika, I am here, made of ash, ready to call death".
- Sadhana Materials:
 - Sheetla Chandika special Yantra: Described in secret Tantras.
 - Rakta Chandan (Red Sandalwood), Bhasm (Ash), and black sesame seeds.
 - 108 blood-red flowers.
 - A clay lamp with mustard oil and a clove.
 - Ash of a corpse (if available).
- Mantra: "Om Hreem Kleem Shitalayai Chandikayai Swaha". Used by specific Sadhaks, chanted carefully. (The source mentions 'Om' at the beginning as if separate, then gives the rest. The first part of the video section includes "Om Hreem Kleem शीतलाय चंडिकाय स्वाहा", suggesting Om is part of the mantra.).
- Sadhana Process:
 - Create a triangle Yantra with ash.
 - Place the lamp in the center of the Yantra.
 - Offer flowers on the Yantra.
 - Chant the mantra 108 times.
 - At the end of the Sadhana, pray for forgiveness for a sick or suffering soul. This is the secret to obtaining Sheetla Chandika's special grace.

Mantra Sound Waves

- Akash Element: Akash means zero or void, but it is not empty space. The Ether element is pervasive everywhere. This Ether is called Akash.
- Waves in Ether: Words broadcast by radio spread as waves in the Ether element. Radio receivers catch these waves. Not just words, but thoughts and beliefs also travel as waves in Akash.
- Mind's Connection: Our mental state attracts thoughts and inspirations from Akash according to our disposition, interest, and desire. Like a radio tuning to a specific station, our mind picks up specific thoughts from the countless thoughts and inspirations present in Akash from the beginning of creation.
